Money is important in our lives. We use money to buy food, toys and books. But we should have a right idea about money.

I get pocket money from my parents every week. In the past, I wanted to buy some candies and toys. Later I learned that some things are more important. For example, when my friend's birthday came, I saved my pocket money to buy her a nice storybook. We were both happy.

Once (曾经) I saw a beautiful toy car. I really wanted it. But I thought about my schoolbag. It was old and broken. So I decided to buy a new schoolbag instead of (而不是) the toy car. Now I have a good schoolbag and it helps me study better.

We should use money wisely. We can save money for useful things instead of wasting it. Remember, money is not everything. The happiness (快乐) from sharing and helping is more valuable (有价值的).

(　　) 2. Longlong once saved pocket money to buy a storybook for a friend's birthday.

十、典典阅读了一篇关于如何更合理地去使用金钱的文章。请阅读短文，选择正确的答案。(10分)

Do you want to use money well? Here's a rule: balance spending and saving.

If you have 100 yuan, how much should you spend and how much should you save? First, you can put 20 to 30 yuan into your saving pot. This is your "future money" . You can use it to buy a bike or go on a school trip. The rest of the money can be used to buy things you need now. Why save first? If you spend first, you might forget to save! Saving helps you plan. If you want an 80-yuan toy, save 10 yuan each week. Later, you'll have enough money to buy it!

Spending is okay, too! You can buy things you love, but ask yourself: Do I really need this? This helps you save for something better.

Try to find a balance between spending and saving. You'll live a better life!

( )1. If you have 100 yuan, how much should you save first?

A. 10 yuan. B. 25 yuan. C. 80 yuan.

( )2. What do we call the money in the saving pot?

A. Now money. B. Future money.

C. Toy money.

( )3. Why should you save money first?

A. Because you might forget to save if you spend first.

B. Because saving is not fun.

C. Because you don't need to buy things now.

( )4. What does "balance spending and saving" mean?

A. Only spend money. B. Only save money.

C. Spend some and save some.

( )5. You probably read this passage in a _____.
